Tennyson Dots.

Tanks are all running over, creeks full and a broad smile of joy on every face, and we hear on all sides the exclamation, "Oh, I ought to see my garden." It does begin to look as if it can rain in Texas. Our Mississippi friends write us, "Farmers are almost utterly disheartened, everything under water, too wet to plant, and what is up is beaten into the earth." Which is worse, too much or too little rain? 'Tis a question hard to settle.

Harry Sayner and Miss Maggie Allison, Bettie Smith and Miss Willie Allison, Emmet Allison and Miss Maggie Benton and Mr. Billinger were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Baker on Monday night last.

Sunday school met as usual Sunday but owing to the bad weather, not many were present.

P. C. Baker's baby has been real sick this week.

Herds will stand a poor show drifting through this part of Coke this year, as every one is lambing.

Darwin Sayner, Mr. Byrd, Jim Allison and Mr. Kyser are lambing this week.

Miss Montie Baker and Miss Carrie Lackey spent part of last Tuesday with Mrs. J. D. Baker.

Several herds have been brought home from the Pecos, where they were wintered, looking fairly well.

Owen Little had his horse bitten by a rattlesnake Friday. He says he is simply footback now.

Old man Robert Harris, who was well known in San Angelo, has been quite sick, but is some better. He is 86 years old and works very hard, thus making a living for himself, and can read and write without glasses.

We have a beautiful country out here now. The trees and grass are green, and the beautiful world of flowers of every description, making us long for nothing to do but stay out among them.

On Friday night a few young people met at the home of J. D. Baker, where music was enjoyed until a late hour.

With best wishes.

"LIVE OAK."

R. E. Overton, of Ballinger, was here with Millar's cow out fit last week and called on the Press, paid a year's subscription in advance and stated that he expected to move his little bunch of cattle somewhere out in this country this fall.

Surprise Party.

A number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen gave them a surprise in the way of a social call last Thursday night at their new home just erected on Quality Heights.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Talbert, Misses Maggie Windrow, Mary Lard, Irene Windrow, Bessie Riley, Lena McLendon, Messrs. W. O. Cochran, L. C. Ellis and Zack Windrow.

Games of various kind, were enjoyed and general conversation, Mr. and Mrs. Allen proving themselves splendid entertainers, all present had a good time and wished Mr. and Mrs. Allen success and usefulness in their new relations.

Lee Spring and wife, of Water Valley, came in on a shopping tour Friday.

The Philharmonic Society has suspended work during the summer months, a few members however will keep the steady practice during the warm weather.

An afternoon recital at the music school will take place at an early date. In the meantime, the pupils are doing special grade work for a medal.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen went to house keeping in their new residence on Quality Heights last Wednesday.

J. H. Smith who has been a resident of San Angelo for the last year left for Comanche last Wednesday where he will reside in the future, with his mother.

Sheriff L. B. Murray and J. D. Davis, of Coke county, came through town Thursday on their way home from attending court at Menardville.

J. J. Hale and M. R. House, of Sterling City, were here Friday to meet Judge R. B. Truly and take him out to Sterling to attend to some legal business.

Bige Duncan one of Knickerbocker's substantial citizens, was in San Angelo last Friday and made the Press an appreciated call.

P. C. Cobb of Knickerbocker called in to see the Press Friday and gave us substantial evidence of his appreciation of the paper. He informed us that the school was dismissed at Knickerbocker on Tuesday on account of a case of small pox in the neighborhood.

Dr. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

Dr. Price's Baking Powder supplies a pure, wholesome leavening agent, which makes the biscuit and cake of highest healthfulness at medium cost and protects the food from alum, which is the greatest dietary danger of the day.

The foremost baking powder in all the world.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO.
CHICAGO.

NOTE.—Alum baking powders are low priced, as alum costs but two cents a pound; but alum is a corrosive poison and it renders the baking powder dangerous to use in food.

NEWS OF INTEREST.

There is marked activity in the leasing of large tracts of large tracts of school land in El Paso county. Leases to several immense bodies have recently been made.

Congressmen Henry and Cullen Thomas are having red-hot joint discussions in Coryell county, and the Waters-Pierce Oil Co. occupies the chief place in their debate.

W. Anderson, a farmer, was caught by a twelve foot rise, in the Bosque, near Waco, and drowned. Storm does damage to a number of buildings in Greenville.

Prohibitionists have decided to make a campaign in Hill county. An offer from the saloon men to make no opposition if Hillsboro was excepted was declined.

R. Allen, of Dallas, has withdrawn as a candidate for the democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, leaving Senator Neal a walkover.

At the court of Criminal Appeals at Austin, the case of W. W. Seley and four others, charged with keeping open saloons on election day, was submitted. In the brief of the defendants the validity of the character of the municipality of Waco is attacked.

The third court of civil appeals holds that the anti-trust act of 1890 and 1895 are invalid.

The liquor dealers in session at San Antonio adjourned without adopting a plan to meet the prohibition movement.

Congressman Rud Kleberg has withdrawn from the race for the congressional nomination in the Ninth district, leaving the field clear for Congressman Burgess. Kleberg says his duties require his presence at Washington, and not having time to make a canvass, he prefers to withdraw.

E. L. Johnson gave the Press a substantial call last Friday. Call again.

Sterling Foster came in on the train Wednesday morning from San Antonio where he has been attending school. He left for his home at Sterling City Thursday.

J. M. Watson, of Irion county, called in to see the press print the Press last Tuesday night, but got too sleepy and quit us at 11:30. Mr. Watson is putting in 80 acres in cotton this year in addition to his feed crops.

A Study In Egoism.

Editor Press, Sir:

In future I shall take care to keep my Pegasus heavily laden with solid respectable conventionality, and shod with the dull jargon of ordinary criticism. Finding myself blessed with an incipient sense of humor, I thought to foster it, only to find, alas! that I wasn't appreciated. Three scathing pieces have appeared in different papers, two anonymous letters have I received, and one fierce caricaturist has been moved to exhibit his art at my expense. Piquant though was my article, and keen the humor to those knowing the situation, it yet fell woefully flat, and I have felt inclined at times to write a little pamphlet, setting forth twenty-four reasons for believing that I am not a bird in a gilded cage, nor a selfish egotist.

I fully realize now that the mixture of music and humor is an entirely incongruous one, and propose to make no more divergencies from the straight path of the Art Melodious. Besides, I fear my humor is too original to be univernally appreciated.

C. J. F.

In our next issue will appear an interesting article from the brilliant pen of Mr. C. J. Finger, treating of his impressions of Paderewski and Dallas generally. Although this gentleman possesses the unfortunate propensity of raising a hornets nest of criticism about every thing he discusses, it is generally admitted that the new angle from which he judges things is the cause. His style is graceful in the extreme.

Roland Hudson, of the Divide in Coke county, was in the city Thursday. He reports good rains in Coke and stock doing well.

For a glass of beer or fine whiskey, go to Chas. Zenker's bar.
